Synopsis

What could be more exciting for a young boy in thirteenth-century Italy than a tournament? Loupio, the orphan befriended by Saint Francis of Assisi, competes against lads bigger and better trained than himself. But he and his friends, with some help from Brother Wolf, achieve surprising results. Cheer them on to victory in this third volume of The Adventures of Loupio.This award-winning comic-book series has first-rate, full color illustrations with exciting stories set in the days of knights and castles. Kids love them!

Jean-FranÃƒÂ§ois Kieffer is a deacon and father of four children. Born in France in 1957, he has been an award-winning writer and illustrator of children's works.

Loupio is the bees knees in our house! We desperately hope the come out with more! We're uber Catholic and homeschooling so this is our jam! My kids have read it at least 20 times! I seem them taking them off the shelf for their nighttime reading more than any other repeat books.

Love this entire series! Sure hope they write more adventures for Loupio soon. My 8 year old twin boys read this multiple times a week!

Our boys, 2.5 - 11 years old all love the Loupio series. And we enjoy watching the elders read it to the you hers, explaining again who St Francis is and what it means to be a knight for Christ

My grandkids really enjoy the Loupio books. Even the beginning readers can read the story with the help of the graphics. There is always a message with each story. I hope there will be many more volumes added to this set.

Both my son (5yo) and daughter (3.5yo) enjoy this series. The book is richly illustrated -- the drawings are large, brightly colored, and lively. Each story is engaging. And of course there's a moral to each story.
