Senior Trivia: Fun Trivia Questions From The Golden Age Of Entertainment

Synopsis

Everyone over 50 fondly remembers entertainment's Golden Age-the radio programs, television programs, movies, and comic books of the 1950's and 1960's. Spend hours of fun testing your memory and remembering your childhood! Remember "Helen Trent" and "The Shadow?" Remember "Texaco Star Theater" and "Winky Dink?" How about the comic books "Green Arrow" and "Little LuLu?" Can you name the stars of the movie "A Streetcar Named Desire?" For which 1960's movie did Lee Marvin win best supporting actor (he thanked his horse at the Oscar ceremony)?

D. L. King, like many baby boomers, spent his early childhood listening to popular radio programs. When his family obtained their first television in 1955, Dick became a big TV fan during television's golden age. Also an ardent reader of comic books, he has developed this senior trivia quiz book.

Before someone writes a trivia book they should check their facts. Sean Connery did NOT play Darby O'Gill, nor was Maureen O'Sullivan in "The Quiet Man". Maureen O'Hara was John Wayne's costar in that movie. After finding those two errors, it's hard to trust the answers on other questions. Wouldn't recommend this book to anyone.

We are quiz game/show/book fanatics and this one is difficult because the answers, instead of being on the back of the questions page, is in a section in the rear

As I live in a senior living facility and have a weekly Happy Hour; we have taken five questions a week and provided them to the residents in attendance. We've had great response and many comments asking us to continue the activity. The Trivia fits this audience very well.

I am using the trivia with seniors in an assisted living community and they love answering the questions every day.
