The Five Types Of Legal Argument, Third Edition

Synopsis

Huhn demonstrates that there are five different types of legal arguments (based on text, intent, precedent, tradition and policy), and through myriad examples this book teaches law students, lawyers, and judges how to identify, create, attack, and evaluate each type of argument. The book contains useful advice and illustrations on how to weave the different types of arguments together to make them more persuasive. The third edition of the book adds a chapter on the role that reasoning by analogy plays in resolving difficult cases and in the development of the law.

Customer Reviews

Wilson Huhn is a C. Blake McDowell, Jr. Professor of Law and a Constitutional Law Research Fellow at the University of Akron School of Law.

Maybe this is good for ... I don't know who. But not for a student in a real law school .

EXCELLENT READ FOR ANY LEGAL PROFESSIONAL! Huhn articulates the five different ways that legal arguments can be made utilizing examples of the writing style from case briefs as well as other materials. Even more, the details explaining what arguments can be used to attack the other arguments and the relative strength of the counter. GET THIS BOOK! It will open your mind to the broad scope of legal writing and it will boost your self confidence in reading and writing tasks! YOU WILL NOT REGRET IT!

I was assigned this book while in law school- ranked in the top 10, presumably qualifying as a real law school. If ever there was a book to read outside of the assigned casebooks, this one would be it. Thank you, Prof. Huhn!
