So You Want To Be A Producer

Synopsis

Few jobs in Hollywood are as shrouded in mystery as the role of the producer. What does it take to be a producer, how does one get started, and what on earth does one actually do? In So You Want to Be a Producer Lawrence Turman, the producer of more than forty films, including The Graduate, The River Wild, Short Circuit, and American History X, and Endowed Chair of the famed Peter Stark Producing Program at the University of Southern California, answers these questions and many more. Examining all the nuts and bolts of production, such as raising money and securing permissions, finding a story and developing a script, choosing a director, hiring actors, and marketing your project, So You Want to Be a Producer is a must-have resource packed with insider information and first-hand advice from top Hollywood producers, writers, and directors, offering invaluable help for beginners and professionals alike. Including a comprehensive case study of Turman's film The Graduate, this complete guide to the movie industry's most influential movers and shakers brims with useful tips and contains all the information you need to take your project from idea to the big screen.

Lawrence Turman's book is lively, engaging, and informative reading, full of terrific anecdotes, quotes, advice and philosophy. Entertaining and very useful.

This is a very informative book. I just bought it here and I think that it is a MUST have! Thanks Mr. Turman for giving us more insight on being a producer. This is an excellent book and I like your honesty and your enthusiasm for the craft. This book has inspired me.

Loved it. The ups and downs of producing films in Hollywood. If you'd like to be a producer you have to read this first.

good book

Easy to follow along with and honest. You don't often get a book that is flowing with honesty, this one is.

Excellent book. Very informative.

Fantastic Read! Extremely insightful! Well Done, Lawrence!
