Edith Lynn Hornik-Beer is the author of four books. She has written for the major magazines and newspapers both here and abroad, and for many years she had a syndicated newspaper column, The Young World. She has appeared on many television and radio shows such as Good Morning America, Mike Douglas show and she has been invited to lecture at various colleges and universities including Long Island University and Chautauqua Institute.

I bought this title for a young person I'm close to whom has a parent with addiction issues - I read it before I gave it to her so I knew what she was going to get from the book. It has some good info - however - if I read through it at a store I'd prob keep looking - it seemed a bit too shallow, dated and had a lot of COKE & POT references - many are on to different types of addictions these days - it didn't hit on the issues this young lady is facing - but I'm an adult - maybe for a teen they can't handle more than what this book offers - the subject alone is so sad - it really didnt go into the addiction issue that she is dealing with - PAIN MEDS! Her mom had/has serious back issues so fights addiction with pain meds but also has issues with drinking too. Im there for this young person and hoping the book will help her not feel so alone - it may help her to know there are others out there with simular struggles. I'd do just about anything to help her and her mom!!

great info for children
